

KORNILOFF ARRESTED; REDS DEMAND POWER

RUSSIAN REBEL LEADER SEIZED WITH HIS AIDES

Radicals Vote for "Democratic Republic" at Once

WOULD CONFISCATE LAND

PETROGRAD, Sept. 15.—The two big developments in the tense political situation today was the arrest of General Korniloff, leader of the military revolt, and the action of the local council of Workmen and Soldiers' Delegates demanding an immediate "democratic republic" with the revolutionary proletariat and peasants in control, and the adoption of a more radical program.

General Korniloff was arrested with his chief adherents. For several days the rebel chief has been under the surveillance of Russian Government commissioners at his headquarters.

General Klembovski, who had been in command on the north front and who refused to accept the post of generalissimo, succeeding Korniloff, was also arrested.

A "democratic republic" at once as the solution of Russia's internal difficulties is demanded in resolutions approved by the local Council of Workmen and Soldiers. The vote was 278 to 115.

A formal proclamation announcing this decision demanded immediate delivery of all landed proprietors' property into the hands of peasants' committees, introduction of employer control of all industrial production and distribution, nationalization of all important industries and ruthless taxation of capital, with confiscation of war profits.

The committee recommended a creation of a Government consisting of representatives of the revolutionary proletariat and the peasants.

DEMAND KORNILOFF'S DEATH.—The provisional Government today faced a spreading anger of the people against the former generalissimo. It was due less perhaps to his actual attempt at a revolt than to events which preceded it.

The formal Government investigation of Korniloff's activities, now on, may dissipate accumulating charges and suspicions, but it is not true that the Russian army was exaggerated. With the investigation under way we can now discover whether or not these panics were organized by Korniloff's own adjutants.

The newspaper referred to recent "reliable communications," frankly dilating on the panic in the Russian retreat.

An extraordinary tribunal will be appointed.

U-BOAT ATTACK NEAR U. S. TOLD BY RADIO CALL

Arriving Freighter Reports S. O. S. From Ship Being Shelled

ONE WARNED OF ENEMY

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Sept. 15.—A British freighter arrived here today with reports that she had picked up wireless messages asserting that a submarine had been attacking a merchant steamship less than a hundred miles off Nantucket.

Although the name of the ship is not known, the word Abbey was heard in the distress call. The "S. O. S." calls were heard early yesterday morning.

Officers on board the freighter declared the message they intercepted merely declared the sending vessel was "being attacked by a German submarine shell fire." The international code distress signal was flashed constantly. Not all of the wireless call was decipherable.

Another British freighter arriving today said warnings had been received by wireless that a submarine was in the western Atlantic Ocean.

Unconfirmed reports reaching another port may indicate still another ship was attacked by a German submarine somewhere off the New England coast.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The Navy Department, hearing of the reported submarine attack off Nantucket, talked with the commandant of a naval district and instructed him to board the British ship bringing the news and get full particulars of the British captain's story.

Patrol ships searching the whole territory around Nantucket might discover any trace of a submarine up to midnight, the Navy Department was informed.

SUGAR CONTROL IN U. S. HANDS, MAY FIX PRICES

President Issues Proclamation Requiring All Firms to Take Out Licenses

SALE TO BE REGULATED

Food Administration Has Full Power Over Marketing and Distribution

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—President Wilson today, by proclamation, placed the sugar industry in the United States under license, beginning on October 1.

All persons, firms, corporations and associations engaged in the business either of importing sugar, or manufacturing sugar from sugar cane or beets, or of refining sugar, or of manufacturing sugar syrups or molasses (except those specifically exempted by act of Congress) are hereby required to secure on or before October 1, 1917, a license, which license will be issued under such rules and regulations governing the conduct of the business as may be prescribed.

Under this proclamation the sugar industry of the United States comes under complete control of the Government. The licensing of the industry will give the food administration power to deal effectively with the industry and virtually to set the prices. Sugar producers have already agreed to voluntary control of the importation of sugar and its distribution.

Best sugar producers have hitherto agreed to place themselves under the regulations of the Food Administration. This, therefore, makes governmental control of sugar in America complete.

2 TAGEBLATT MEN HELD FOR TREASON

Death Penalty for Offenses Charged Against Werner and Darkow

INDICTED BY U. S. JURY

Indictments for mutiny, disloyalty and conspiring against the army were returned by the Federal Grand Jury late this afternoon against Solomon Kress, Morris Rubin, Arthur Stueffenhayer and Henry Meyer, all of whom were arrested by postal inspectors in a raid several days ago at the Socialist Book Store, 1326 Arch street.

Death sentences could be meted out to Louis Werner, the aged editor-in-chief of the Philadelphia Tageblatt, and Dr. Martin Darkow, managing editor of the same publication, who this afternoon were indicted for treason, conspiracy and on seven other charges by the Federal Grand Jury.

United States Attorney Francis Fisher Kane said this afternoon that treason in time of war is punishable by death. It is expected that Doctor Darkow and Herr Werner will be placed on trial during the fall term.

Two separate indictments were also handed down by the Federal Grand Jury against Herman Lempho, business manager of the paper; Peter Schaeffer, president of the Philadelphia controlling publication, and Paul Vogel. These indictments charge the last named with "wilfully publishing false and misleading articles in the Philadelphia Tageblatt and conspiring through these publications to aid the enemy."

The indictments following so closely on yesterday's arraignment were not expected by the editors and other officials of the Tageblatt. Yesterday the prisoners laughed at the charges and predicted that the Federal Grand Jury would not indict them.

Whether the five defendants would be placed on trial at one time could not be ascertained this afternoon. Yesterday's evidence produced by the Department of Justice was only one chapter of the alleged offenses committed by the prisoners, according to an agent of the local branch of the Department of Justice.

An indictment was also handed down by the Federal Grand Jury against Jacob Balz, who is associated with the brewery firm of J. F. Bantz & Co., of this city, for making a false affidavit while seeking exemption.
